Climate Justice

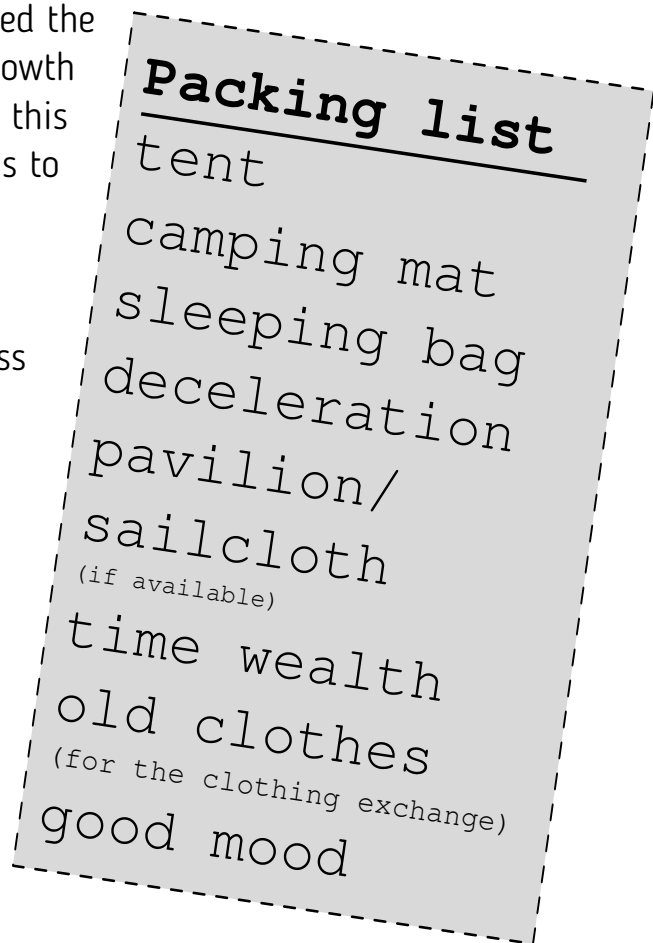

Summer School 2015

The Degrowth Conference 2014 showed the full breadth and diversity of the degrowth movement. Now it is time to channel this diversity and create concrete solutions to societal and ecological problems.

The starting point is climate justice - from 9 to 14 of August we will discuss degrowth strategies with a focus on climate justice and an end to coal power.

Furthermore, the summer school will be a place to experience and practice sustainable and socially just ways of living together.

Last but not least we will discuss and confront obstacles for a just and ecological society.

9 - 14 August: Summer School on the Climate Camp in the Rhineland (Germany)

15 August: Demonstration for Climate Justice
